Pennoweth News

This week in school

As you have hopefully seen through Marvellous Me, our Ofsted report has now been released. It will be published on the Ofsted website soon. If you haven't been able to see the report through Marvellous Me or would like a paper copy, please do just ask at the school office. We are really pleased with the report and will, as ever, work to continually improve.

Thank you so much for your patience, again (!), this week as our building work continues. The significant reduction to car parking space on Thursday was due to a large delivery. Fortunately the additional area of the car park only had to be closed off for the day. Thank you so much for working around the situation. We will continue to let you know as and when changes are happening.

As we start to head towards the end of the school year, we would like to remind parents of children in year 2 that the entitlement that year 1 and 2 children have to Universal Infant Free School Meals ends as children finish year 2. From year 3 onwards, payment is required for school meals unless you are entitled to income assessed free school meals. If you feel that your child may be entitled to free school meals (whichever year group they are in), please do speak to the office.

Congratulations to our wonderful year 6 children on their production performances this week; you have been superstars. We look forward to their final performance next week! Children heading to Redruth have also been out of Pennoweth for their 2 transition days this week.

Well done to children who attended the year 5 Scillies trip last week; we had so many lovely comments from members of the public regarding the excellent behaviour of the children.

It is our Summer Fair next Friday (1st July). We are very much looking forward to seeing as many of you as possible! Please remember that Tuesday 28th June is a non-uniform day in exchange for donations to the fair. Please see page 3 of the newsletter for more information.

We hope you have a lovely weekend!

Character Qualities

We have 4 key characteristics that we are always on the lookout for! Each of these is represented by a character.

Considerate children are thoughtful, caring, sympathetic, helpful, polite, attentive, mindful and patient.

Inquisitive children are curious, inquiring, questioning, intrigued and eager to know.

Courageous children are bold, brave, valiant adventurous and determined.

Children who are being fun will be enthusiastic, excited, energetic, cheerful, light-hearted and will laugh!

We also have our Stars of the Week, who have been classroom superstars and DNA Champions for each phase.

Wellbeing Update

Self-belief is more important than anything. If a child has confidence in themselves from an early age, they will benefit in so many ways. Remind each other regularly of how well you are doing and support one another.

Lots children are coming to me this week saying they loved the assemblies and other children sharing. We know the difference it makes when children support and encourage each other.

Do remember to check in with your thoughts—are they healthy? Supportive? Encouraging? Remember we should be encouraging ourselves as we would our friends. Our inner narrative is crucial to our mental health.

Please do reach out to the pastoral team if we can help.

Have a lovely weekend.

Mrs Gaskin
