Pennoweth News

This week in school

We hope you are all safe and well. It certainly hasn't been the last day of half term that we had planned for. Thank you very much for responding so well to our decision to be closed today.

It has been a great final week of the half term in school. As the children's history projects have drawn to a close, there have been some fantastic pieces of writing that have illustrated how much knowledge the children have gained and have been able to apply.

At the start of next half term, we will be focusing on being musicians! Parent leaflets detailing the curriculum coverage will be on the website in the next few days.

Mini Reports from Marvellous Me

You should have received an end of term mini report from your Child's Class teacher this week via Marvellous Me. If you haven't received this or, if you have lost your Marvellous Me login, please do get in touch via the relevant phase email address (these are shown below) and we will work to make sure that you get a copy of the report—and help you to sign up to Marvellous Me if needed.

Twitter

If you are not already doing so, please follow the school's Twitter account @PennowethS. Teams are tweeting on a regular basis and it's a great way to see what the children are up to. Tweets stream through to the front of our website too.

We wish you all a very happy and safe half term and look forward to seeing the children back in school on Tuesday 1st March (Monday 28th February is an inset day).

Character Qualities

We have 4 key characteristics that we are always on the lookout for! Each of these is represented by a character.

Considerate children are thoughtful, caring, sympathetic, helpful, polite, attentive, mindful and patient.

Inquisitive children are curious, inquiring, questioning, intrigued and eager to know.

Courageous children are bold, brave, valiant adventurous and determined.

Children who are being fun will be enthusiastic, excited, energetic, cheerful, light-hearted and will laugh!

We also have our Stars of the Week, who have been classroom superstars and DNA Champions for each phase.

Wellbeing

It has been a positive half term with lots of children telling me how much they are enjoying little mindfulness sessions in class or at home. It seems we have some inspirational mini teachers who are taking sessions in class; how amazing is that!

So here is a reminder of what you can be doing at home together to help your mental, physical and emotional health.

1. Try to get outside in nature as much as possible. Walk, run or cycle in beautiful Cornwall.
2. Take three deep breaths in and slowly breathe out each morning and remind yourself of what you are grateful for. Write it down and place it on the fridge. Encourage the whole family to take part.
3. Try a little mindfulness meditation together; ask your child to show you what they have been doing in class.
4. Have a lovely bedtime routine for all your children and ensure they don't have electronic devices before bed or in their bedroom. Read a book together whenever you can.
5. Try to make sure you put your phone down and give eye contact and listen to your child. They love it when you really listen and take that extra time for them.
6. Try to improve your diet slowly; add one piece of fruit and a portion of vegetables each day next week. Try to drink plenty of water.
7. Say 'I love you' every day to your little ones, no matter what age they are!
8. Remember we all have days that don't go well and try to start afresh the next day with a positive attitude.
